This book consists of prose and poetry by eminent writers and literary scholars. An attempt has been made to prescribe selected literary pieces representing the English literatures of the 16th and 17th centuries. Care has been taken to include a variety of interesting background topics which give an idea of the origin and general characteristics of the literature of the said times. Literary terms that would highlight important concepts in a text, strengthen the narrative and help readers connect with the characters and themes have been introduced as well. The other aim of this collection is to improve the critical and creative skills for the benefit of undergraduate students at large. At the end of each chapter, we have planned the comprehension in accordance with National Education Policy 2020 to achieve certain objectives and accomplish precise learning outcomes.
