CONCEPT NOTE

Literary pieces in Indian Writing in English have raised the quandaries of women in the social structure from various aspects. R. K. Narayan, Bhishan Bhatnagar, Neelam Sanjiva Reddy, Anita Desai, Shashi Deshpande, Namita Gokhale, Shobha De, Manjira Kapur and Arundhati Roy are a few prominent names who have given space to women's plight. Considering the exploitation of the past in all its contours, it is herewith taken up to fight it down under all given circumstances. As such equality being the birthright of any individual, a woman too is entitled to all the liberty to choose her lifestyle, her profession, and her general behavioural patterns.

Indian novelists can be said to be highly conscious of the women's liberation movement. They have portrayed women and their stories with the consciousness of the injustices meted out to women by society. These novels have a feminist undercurrent. If carefully looked at these fictional female characters, a large number of them rebel against the existing social setup. They diverge the idea of being submissive, suffering, and sacrificing. These protagonists in the novels of Indian women novelists often rebel rather than submit and die through suffocation. They conform to the social setup but do not lose their identity and strength of mind. They are confident, enterprising, ambitious, and individualistic. New Women who demand attention equality, and peace not on compromising terms but on terms as per their own.

Conclusion

The National Webinar on Women's Empowerment in India, organized by various Educational Institutions, was a significant gathering aimed at exploring diverse perspectives on the subject, particularly through the lens of English Literature. With notable speakers such as Dr. Shalini Yadav and Dr. Pranjali Kane, along with Dr. S. Marthai as the Resource Person, the event provided a platform for insightful discussions. Anchored by Dr. Vinita Virgandham, the webinar saw active participation from 105 attendees. The collaborative effort underscored the importance of interdisciplinary dialogue in understanding and promoting Women's Empowerment.
