NUMBER OF STUDENTS/BENEFICIARIES	69
DETAILED REPORT OF THE ACTIVITY	The Women's Study Centre and Students' Counselling Centre organized Workshop on 'Pre-Marriage Counselling: Health & Hygiene', on 24th April to equip the girl students with essential knowledge about life. The event saw active participation from 69 girl students who benefitted from the Workshop. The Programme commenced with an insightful Introductory Speech by Asst. Prof. Dr. Vinita S. Virgandham, the Member Secretary of Women's Study Centre who outlined the significance of the theme. Dr. Namrata Telang, Public Health Specialist from THO, Bhiwapur delivered a comprehensive Keynote Address highlighting the vital intersection of physical health, hygiene and emotional readiness in building a stable foundation for the future. Principal Dr. Jobi George in his message shared visionary thoughts, emphasizing his commitment to empowering female students through such focused initiatives under the Women's Study Centre and Students' Counselling Centre. Prof. Dr. Sunil Shinde graced the occasion as the Guest of Honour and extended his best wishes for the students' holistic development. Associate Prof. Dr. Anita Mahawadiwar, the IQAC Coordinator noted that the Workshop was a key IQAC's quality initiative. Asst. Prof. Dr. Ravikant Mishra, Member Secretary of Students' Counselling Centre hosted the workshop which also saw an interactive session fostering proactive health awareness. Dr. Mishra concluded the session with a formal vote of thanks.
PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES	▪ To provide girl students with essential, practical knowledge concerning health, hygiene and marital preparedness. ▪ To highlight and educate students on the critical intersection between physical health, personal hygiene and emotional readiness for the future. ▪ To foster the overall personal and social growth of female students, ensuring they build a stable foundation for their future lives.

	▪ To execute targeted, high-quality awareness programmes under the Internal Quality Assurance (IQAC) framework. ▪ To create an open platform that stimulates interactive learning and encourages students to take a proactive stance toward their health and well-being.
PROBLEMS FACED, IF ANY	▪ Navigating the taboo or shyness naturally associated with pre-marriage counselling, health and hygiene among young college students. ▪ Overcoming initial hesitation from the audience to ensure the concluding session was genuinely interactive and proactive rather than passive. ▪ Combining comprehensive physical health, hygiene and emotional readiness concepts into a single-day workshop format. ▪ Addressing a diverse group of 69 students who may have varying levels of baseline health awareness and different personal concerns. ▪ Measuring the long-term retention and practical implementation of the health and hygiene knowledge after the workshop was concluded.
IMPACT/OUTCOME ACHIEVED	▪ 69 participating girl students gained a comprehensive understanding of physical health and hygiene management. ▪ Students developed a clearer awareness of the emotional stability and maturity required for long-term relationships and marriage. ▪ The interactive concluding session successfully fostered open dialogue, allowing students to clarify doubts and actively engage with public health experts. ▪ Female students felt empowered by the institutional support, leading to a more proactive attitude toward personal self-care and holistic development. ▪ The event successfully fulfilled a key IQAC quality mandate, strengthening the collaborative impact of the Women's Study Centre and Students' Counselling Centre.
